Sri Dhira ChaitanyaJi's online talks

Topic: Praatah Smaranam

Wednesday January 20, 2021, 7:00PM to 8:15PM

Praatah Smaranam is a short contemplative prayer that is usually recited in the morning before one begins one's day. The attitude and mood with which one starts one's day tends to set the stage for one's frame of mind for the rest of the day. Starting one's daily activities with a morning prayer by which one brings to mind the presence of Bhagavan within ourselves, invokes in our mind a reverential attitude and a tranquil mind. This is a prayer in three verses written by Sri Adi Shankaraachaarya. It is loaded with meaning and encapsulates the message of Vedic Scripture.

Topic: Vijnanaanauka - Ferry of Wisdom

Wednesday March 17 and 24, 2021, 7:00PM to 8:15PM

Vedic tradition likens a human's life of joys and sorrows to crossing an ocean fraught with uncertainties, challenges, even danger. As one requires an appropriate means of sailing across an ocean successfully one needs to have adequate means to successfully deal with the journey of life. Vedic insights, values and lifestyle are all geared towards achieving this end. Sri Adi Shankaraachaarya, in this work encapsulates the wisdom and message of the Vedas. Sri DhiraJi will expound on this work in two talks.
