Gangaastotram

Gangaa stotram are verses in the form of a prayer to mother Gangaa devi, who is invoked as the waters of Gangaa, the most sacred river of Bharat. The life of everyone who belongs to the Vedic tradition is inextricably entwined with mother Gangaa individually and through one's ancestors, religious thought, spiritual disciplines and cultural traditions.

Gangaastotram, written by Adi Shankaracharya in praise of the goddess describes her beauty, glory and nature. She is life giving and sustaining, purifying and giver of moksha. Throughout our history countless sages, kings, gods and people of all walks of life have sought refuge on her banks and achieved the ultimate end of moksha. Mere listening to Gangaa stotram brings joy, is inspiring, and fills one's heart with devotion and reverence for mother Gangaa.

Sri DhiraJi will elaborate on this beautiful prayer and greatness of mother Gangaa in two talks during the auspicious occasion of Gangaa Dussehra widely celebrated on the banks of Maa Gangaa on May 30th, 2023.
